To Whom It May Concern,

In 1987, we added a room to our ranch home. We acquired a number of appraisals and decided to have Shelter Cove Construction do the job. Having been so pleased with their work, in 1991 when we decided to convert the ranch into a Mother/Daughter residence, we called the same company. In both cases, the job was completed on time and with no added expenses. Paul, the head of the company, and his workers were cooperative, friendly, and reliable.

Since then we have recommended the Shelter Cove Construction company to a number of people, including my brother, uncle, cousin, and a friend. All have had work done on their homes and have been very pleased with the results.
