To whom it may concern:

It is a pleasure to write to you about Shelter Cove Construction. I became acquainted with Shelter Cove Construction through my father. My father, who had worked for many years in a lumberyard, was familiar with Shelter Cove and highly recommended the company. When it was time for me to build my new home in Toms River, I chose Paul and his son Carlo, the owners of Shelter Cove, as the builders.

I am thoroughly satisfied with my new home. Paul is a perfectionist who takes great pride in his work. He is reliable, efficient, helpful and knowledgeable. Paul provided guidance and suggestions throughout the construction of my home. He always steered me in the right direction.

Even now that the house is finished, Paul is still available should I have any questions or problems. He has stopped in to visit on several occasions. I consider him a member of my extended family.

As a person, Paul is honest and a complete gentleman. It was a pleasure to do business with Paul and the Shelter Cove team. The entire crew was hard-working and courteous. I recommend Shelter Cove Construction without reservations.

Sincerely yours,
